

ZELAYA MAKES NO REPLY TO NOTES

NICARAGUAN CHARGE D'AFFAIRS HAS HAD NO ORDERS FROM HIS GOVERNMENT.

MARINE TRANSPORT STRUCK

The "Prairie" Went Aground in the Delaware River—Men and Guns Taken Off in Order to Float Vessel.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.] Washington, D. C., Dec. 3.—President Zelaya has not answered Secretary Knox's note or even sent any official instructions to the Nicaraguan Charge d'Affaires Rodriguez in this city as to how to act. For the past twenty-four hours no word has been received of any official nature.

Rodriguez is at a loss as to how to proceed, having for forty-eight hours since he communicated with President Zelaya, and since he has been given his passports, not been in communication with his home government.

It is certain that the cabinet meeting held yesterday made many important decisions, not the least of which was to send a special message to congress when it convenes asking that the president be given full power to continue his present policies toward the little republic.

The delay in starting the detachment of marines from the League Island navy yards owing to the transport "Prairie" going aground, may cause a change in the plans for handling the question of sending troops and handling forces in Nicaragua.

Word from the other vessels ordered to proceed to Panama or Nicaragua is to the effect that all have started on scheduled time and will arrive at the ports they are ordered to report at with the least possible delay. There is still considerable activity in the navy yards owing to secret orders which have been sent out.

The "Prairie" Aground.

Philadelphia, Pa., Dec. 3.—All efforts to float the transport "Prairie," which went aground soon after sailing from the navy yard yesterday have proved fruitless and the tug sent to it has not been able to start it from the mud bank it is lodged in.

This afternoon the marines were taken off, the cargo lightened and then another attempt will be made to move the vessel which it is thought has received no injuries from the accident. If it is found to be damaged the "Dixie" will be used to transport the marines and munitions.

Leaves Zelaya

Minneapolis, Minn., Dec. 3.—Colonel Guadalupe, an officer of the Nicaraguan government army, has departed Zelaya and with a command of a hundred men, has joined the rebel force at Managua.

Need Food

Guadamuz states Zelaya's troops in the vicinity of Managua number 1400, of whom 200 are sick from lack of food.

RAILROAD OFFICIAL FORMER BELOIT MAN

W. D. Diddle, Vice-President of Frisco Lines, Once Made His Home in Line City.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.] Beloit, Wis., Dec. 3.—W. D. Diddle, who was elected vice-president of the St. Louis and San Francisco railroad system was a Beloit boy. He started railroading on the Atchafalaya, Topeka & Santa Fe railroad, securing the place through Wm. D. Strong, formerly of this city, who was then general manager of that line. Mr. Diddle's advance in railroad matters has been very steady. He has a mother and sister living in Beloit.

A Beloit family watches the political situation in Nicaragua with unusual interest. For years Williams, son of Mrs. C. A. Williams, and a brother of Mrs. C. A. Williams, is carrying on a mining business two hundred miles from Blue Front, a mountain in Nicaragua. The family feels considerable anxiety concerning his condition, in spite of the fact that Mr. Williams has always stated that Americans should keep out of politics, and claim their rights as American citizens. Mr. Williams formerly made his home in this city.

With the assistance of the postoffice authorities the man was located at the Caloric plant. He promised to comply with the request at once.

DEATH OF "BLIND TIGERS" PREDICTED

New Laws Of Congress In Effect Jan. 1, Aid To Authorities In "Dry" Territory.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] Washington, D. C., Dec. 3.—Another phase in the great campaign against liquor will come to the fore the first of next month, when the revised penal code of the United States is to become effective. Many of the changes made in the penal laws by the Sixtieth Congress were of minor interest, but the section relating to the shipment of intoxicating liquors into "dry" territory contained new legislation, the result of which will be to make the United States act in prosecution violators of the local authorities, as a rule, are able to deal effectively with offenders, but in certain sections of the south and west, where settlement is sparse, the task is not so easy, and the members of Congress from those sections insisted that the federal government should come to the aid of the local authorities.

Three sections of the new codification relate to the liquor traffic. The most important provision is that on and after January 1 every shipment of intoxicating liquor shall bear the name of the consignee, the nature of the contents and the quantity contained therein. It is a notorious fact, so any persons who have had experience in attempting to drive out "blind tigers," that practically all the liquor now shipped into prohibited territory is labeled as some other commodity, or not labeled at all, and frequently addressed to persons other than the consignees.

The federal authorities already have sent out notices to all manufacturers of intoxicants that their wares must be labeled on and after the first of the new year, setting forth the nature of the contents and the exact amount in each package. It is believed that if the local authorities co-operate with the federal government in the enforcement of the law it will be a comparatively easy matter to suppress the "blind tigers." It is pointed out that from now on they cannot exist without violating the federal statute, and the assumption of the department of justice is that would-be violators will not care to take the chance of falling into the clutches of the federal courts.

It has been alleged from time to time that in some of the states where the sale of intoxicating liquor has been prohibited in one or another of the railroads and express companies asked the violators of the law by acting as buying or selling agents, or both. Congress, with the idea of putting a stop to this practice, provided as follows: "Any railroad company, express company, or other common carrier, or any other persons who, in connection with the transportation of any spirituous, vinous, malted, fermented, or other intoxicating liquor of any kind, from one State, Territory, or district of the United States, into any state, territory or district of the United States, or from any foreign country into any state, territory, or district of the United States, shall collect the purchase price or any part thereof, before, on, or after delivery, or shall in any manner act as the agent of the buyer or seller of any such liquor, for the purpose of buying or selling or completing the sale thereof, saving only in the actual transportation and delivery of the same, shall be fined not more than $5,000."

BUTTERMILK BATH PUTS OUT FLAMES

Town of Patch Grove Saved by Use of Novel Fire Extinguisher.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.] Fond du Lac, Wis., Dec. 3.—A plentiful supply of buttermilk alone saved the town of Patch Grove from destruction by fire yesterday when the Huberman creamery was destroyed. The citizens formed a bucket brigade and with five hundred buckets of buttermilk secured from the creamery the house adjoining was saved. Had the fire communicated to this house it is probable the whole town would have gone.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] New York, Dec. 3.—At the first of the series of public meetings arranged by the Equal Franchise Society, which was held at the Garden Theatre this afternoon, Gov. John P. Shafroth of Colorado was the principal speaker. He was introduced by the president, Mrs. Clarence H. Maclean, and was received with applause by the large audience of women's suffrage enthusiasts. SCHOOLS TAKE THE SALE OF STAMPS UP

Adams School Disposes of Twenty-five Hundred Christmas Stamps in Few Days.

Thirty thousand stamps were ordered by the Gazette for distribution throughout the city in the campaign of the Christmas Stamp sale, the proceeds to be devoted to the stamping out of tuberculosis in Wisconsin. Already this supply is gone and an order to rush fifteen thousand more was sent this morning. In the Adams school twenty-five hundred stamps were distributed to the pupils by Superintendent Buell a few days ago, and this morning the twenty-five dollar request for more stamps. Thus far only the Adams and Jefferson schools have been furnished with stamps, but as soon as the new supply comes every school in the city will be given an opportunity. There is a prize given up for the schools in proportion to their population and with the start made by the Adams school Jamesville bids fair to be in the race with a fine opportunity of winning. This additional order of fifteen thousand stamps brings the total number of stamps ordered for Jamesville to forty-five thousand. The stamps are on sale at all the stores in the city and merchants at Christmas presents should not forget to add a few stamps to seal their packages with.

WILL WRIGHTS BE ALLOWED MONOPOLY?

If Court Grants Them Injunction, They Will Practically Control Aeroplane Making.

Buffalo, N. Y., Dec. 3.—A legal fight that will cause a stir in the aeronautical world will have its first trial in court here tomorrow, when Judge Hazel of the United States District Court will hear arguments on the application of Wright and Orville Wright for a preliminary injunction restraining Glenn H. Curtiss and the Herring-Curtiss Company of Hammondsport, N. Y., from making, using or selling the so-called Curtiss aeroplane, and particularly restraining the defendants from conducting public exhibitions and flights of such machines.

The outcome of the contest will be watched eagerly by persons interested in aeroplanes, both in America and in Europe. The gist of the claim made by the Wrights is that the new Herring-Curtiss aeroplane, which was built for the Aeronautic Society several days ago, was the result of the infringement of the Wright patents, which are considered at Washington and in practically every civilized country. The main infringement, it is alleged, lies in the use of the flexible wing tip which gives stability to the aeroplane, practically when gliding or making turns.

Should the Wrights be successful in the federal courts and procure the injunction they ask for they will have almost a world-wide monopoly of aeroplane construction at its present stage, for there is hardly a heavier-than-air flying machine of any consequence which does not use the flexible wing tip in one form or another. Even the Blériot machine in which the French aviator crossed the English channel last summer, though a monoplane, and thus essentially different in its construction from the Wright flyer, has flexible tips at the extremity of its wings or planes and would be practically useless without them.

The Wrights have advanced their claims informally when comparing their machine with others, but this is the first overt step they have taken to establish their sole right to use the flexible tips. Other aeronautical engineers have declared the idea that the Wright patents gave them sole right to use this device, and have stated that long before the Wrights did any work in the invention of flying machines Hiram Maxim, Chanute and others had devised the flexible tip idea and had adapted it in one form or another to aeroplane construction.

WILL WIN FAME OR FEED JUNGLE KING

"Buffalo" Jones, Noted Hunter, Going To Africa To Secure Wild Beasts By Roping Them.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] New York, Dec. 3.—"Buffalo" Jones who is known throughout the country as the man to whom most credit belongs for preventing the total extinction of the buffalo, has arrived in New York preparatory to sailing for Africa, where he hopes to gain new laurels by roping lions and other varieties of wild animals that make the jungles of the Dark Continent their habitat. Mr. Jones believes that for a man of his experience it will be as easy to catch the king of beasts with a lariat as it is to rope a Texas steer. This opinion is shared by "Slim" Owens of Fredonia, Ariz., one of the best ropers in the west, whom Mr. Jones has selected to accompany him on the trip and to share in the profits that he expects to reap when he returns with a shipment of wild animals that have fallen victims to his prowess with the lasso.

As a fitting farewell on the eve of his departure Mr. Jones is to be tendered a banquet at Delmonico's tomorrow night, at which the menu will include buffalo steaks, bear meat and other delicacies that are supposed to tickle the palate of the Western ranchman and hunter. Numbers among the hosts at the dinner will be "Buffalo Bill," Pawnee Bill, Charles M. Russell, the "cowboy artist," Ernest Thompson Seton, the writer, and William T. Hornaday, director of the Bronx Zoo.

STATE BASES CASE ON CIRCUMSTANTIAL EVIDENCE IN TRIAL

No Direct Evidence That Hedger Killed His Wife Will Be Offered in Murder Trial Which Begins Today.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] Milwaukee, Dec. 3.—Financial difficulty and addiction to drink and drugs and unusual actions and movements between the time he left his home in the morning and the time the body of his wife were found, constitute the circumstantial evidence on which the state hopes to convict Geo. E. Hedger. The state case was disclosed by Assistant District Attorney Charles A. McGee in the statement to the jury which opened the real trial of the case this morning.

Mr. McGee made no allusion to the state of the contents of Mrs. Hedger's stomach which formed so important a part at the state case in the preliminary examination beyond saying that the post mortem examination showed that her stomach was like that of a healthy woman.

ROADS PREPARED FOR LONG FIGHT

NORTHWEST STILL TIED UP BY SWITCHMEN'S GOING OUT.

IMPORT STRIKE BREAKERS

Hush Hundreds of Unskilled Men to Take Places of Those Who Have Left.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.] St. Paul, Minn., Dec. 3.—From the railway headquarters it is officially given out this afternoon that the situation has improved within the past twenty-four hours very much and that the worst is now over.

From the railroad men it is said that the roads are losing ground steadily and that the strikers are gaining ground every hour by the forcing of other trades out of work by failure to deliver supplies for labor.

The railroads are all putting at work large numbers of strike-breakers in all the local yards. These men have been recruited from Chicago and are being rushed here as fast as possible. For the most part they are unskilled workers.

There have been some minor cases of violence but thus far the strike has been most peaceful. Despite this fact the police reserves are all being kept in readiness for any emergency that may arise and trouble is expected. It is also learned from railroad headquarters that the yards that may be available for use in handling a congested condition of freight that is certain to result from the tie-up in the northwest are being prepared for the rush.

Engineers Not to Stop. Cleveland, Dec. 3.—Warren S. Stone, head of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, said today that the engineers will take no part in the strike of the switchmen on the northwestern railroads.

BELOIT COMPANY IS TO HAVE AN ARMORY

Line City Company, Wisconsin National Guard, Based in State, to Have Suitable Quarters.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] Beloit, Wis., Dec. 3.—There is rejoicing in the ranks of the local guardmen over the announcement made this week that they are to have an armory worthy of the crack company. The command has always been hampered for want of a suitable armory but notwithstanding this handicap, it has forged its way to the front and became the first company in the state, according to the "Inspector's" reports. This was under Captain R. P. Hossman, who is now major. After him came a new captain, Charles S. Buck, and under him the company has still taken the front rank in the state, standing third in the list. The new armory will be on East Grand avenue, nearly opposite the Hotel Hilton. The building will be four stories high and Company 1. will occupy the two upper stories.

At the services at the Baptist church last night was present Miss Mary Holman of Rockford, whose father, Rev. Thomas Holman, was pastor of the church fifty-seven years ago. The presence of Miss Holman and her father's service long years ago were duly noted by persons who were members of his congregation.

The Wisconsin State Railway commission at Madison is now hearing testimony about the gas business of the Beloit Water, Gas and Electric company. The water question seems to have been about threshed out. The electric lighting matter will come up in a few days. The contest is being fought out bitterly by both sides.

The Beloit College Athletic association has no basketball team to meet outside teams this year. Somehow the interest in the game has been low. A series of class and fraternity games will be played in the great gymnasium during the winter. Several large schools have signified their intention of making entries for the intercollegiate wrestling contests which Athletic Director Evans of the college is arranging.

The premium bids for the exhibition of the Beloit Corn Club, December 14 to 20, are being issued. The exhibition will be in connection with that of the Beloit Poultry association. The Corn club is composed of progressive farmers of Rock and Winnebago counties and Boone county, Ill., who desire to develop the corn product of the farms in this vicinity.

Centenary of Foundation of Order in United States Being Celebrated in New York This Week.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] New York, Dec. 3.—The centenary of the foundation in the United States of the sisters of charity by Mother Elizabeth Seton in 1809 is being celebrated this week in the various catholic churches and schools throughout Greater New York. Mother Seton was born and received into the catholic church in this city, and her memory has always been revered in the faith. She sent the first band of her sisters to New York in 1817, and there are now 1,100 of her spiritual followers laboring in the schools and institutions of the metropolis.

MERELY COPIED THE
ARTICLES OFFEREDTwo Janesville Boys at University
Did Not Present Their Own Views.

When the campaign in favor of the proposed rule by the commission started the Gazette threw its columns open to the readers for a thorough discussion of the question. Several articles pro and con on the matter were received and published and since then the discussions held in the different clubs have been reported thoroughly so that all possible light might be thrown on the subject.

Rule of cities by the commission form of government is a most interesting subject and one which can not be understood too thoroughly by the voters of Janesville in view of the fact they will soon have an opportunity to accept or reject its requirements. The Wisconsin law differs from the laws in other states and the opponents of the Wisconsin law consequently find ground for argument against its acceptance because of this fact.

Prominent among the opponents of the law is the Milwaukee Journal. This paper, which has long pursued a "rule or ruin" policy, sought to bolster up its ideas by securing articles from law authorities and publishing them. They failed, however, to print any articles which favored the Wisconsin law as it did not suit their purpose to do so. Consequently their campaign has fallen flat. It is too one-sided to pay any attention to and loses its force. The town law is different from the Wisconsin law and what would apply to that state will not fit in Wisconsin.

Among those who wrote communications were two Janesville youths who are students at the state university. Their letter appears below explaining their attitude. The answer sent them—the distorted report they wrote to the morning paper—follows the first letter. This morning another communication was received from them which is merely a copy of the town law in part. It is written on both sides of the paper and consequently unable to be handled properly. As it does not deal with any condition that the voters of Janesville face it is not thought worth while to publish it. The letters are as follows:

Madison, Wis., Nov. 29, 1909.
Editor Gazette:
Dear Sir: We have followed with much interest the discussions that have appeared in the Gazette in regard to the merits and demerits of the commission form of government, provided for by the Whitehead bill. As the Gazette has offered its columns to all who wish to discuss the matter, we desire to take advantage of it and ask that you print the articles we will send you. As the other writers have done, we will sign fictitious names, and ask that you print those only.

The first one will be a series of articles that have appeared in the Milwaukee Journal during the past few weeks. We enclose one article we desire you to print tomorrow, if you will, and will send the others later. Respectfully,
HAROLD G. YAHN, and
W. H. SPOHN,
526 State St., Madison, Wis.

November 30, 1909.
Messrs. Yahn and Spohn,
Madison, Wis.

Gentlemen: We are in receipt of your communication and the same will be published today. Regarding the Milwaukee Journal and its efforts to handicap the cities interested in the commission plan of government, would say that we are not in sympathy with the crusade and do not care to encourage it. We see the paper every day and if we find anything worth reproducing, we will handle it.

The Journal opposes the Wisconsin law because it omits the recall and the Gazette supports it because that feature is left out. The Journal is a political organ and poor authority on any proposition.

Do your own thinking. Write your own stories and send them along. Very cordially,

CURRENT ITEMS.

Prospective Groom Stumped: John Auckert at Deloit was unable to obtain a marriage license at the court house yesterday afternoon because he could not remember the maiden name of the prospective bride who is Mrs. Leonard, also of the Linn City. Arrangements for mailing the desired information were made and the license will be sent to him as soon as it is received and the blank filled out. Both parties have been married before. Mr. Auckert is 48 years of age and Mrs. Leonard is 51.

"Chan" Kimer's Catch: Grasshoppers in December are something of a novelty. "Chan" Kimer caught a large and lively specimen on First street near the library this morning. Tried to Burn Collar: Walter Quarrick of Deloit, a little worse for a protracted spree, was escorted to the city hall dungeon by Officer Fanning this morning. A band of youngsters last evening tried to set fire to Quarrick's supposed collared collar, but for some reason, probably because the neckyoke happened to be rubber his life was spared.

End Work for Season: The contracting firm of Uehlein, Cushman & Nobel expects to discontinue its sewer construction operations on Garfield avenue for the season, after this evening.

Lady's Grip Stolen: This afternoon a man dashed into the ladies' waiting room at the North-Western depot and grabbed a grip belonging to a lady who had left it standing there. The net was committed so quickly that no one could intercept him. The police were called, and the train and the vicinity were searched, but no trace of man nor grip could be found.

Ward in Texas: L. W. Ward, who served as physical director of the Y. M. C. A. in this city, is now located in Sherman, Texas, as secretary of the association there.

YOUR NOONDAY LUNCHEON

Should be of something light yet at the same time appetizing. Rather let the heavier meal go until the evening. Eating a light yet appetizing luncheon at the noon hour enables you to more fully enjoy and derive the benefits of what you eat. Don't eat a heavy meal at noon—by so doing you overload your stomach and are apt to feel "groggy" the greater part of the afternoon.

DISCUSSED PLANS FOR NEW BUILDING

Janesville Aerie of Eagles Hold Regular Meeting and Election of Officers Last Evening.

While last evening was held the annual election of officers of the Janesville Aerie, 724, P. O. E., the question of plans for the proposed new building was the subject of considerable discussion. The committee which had been named to investigate the matter and make a report, gave a partial statement of what they had done and will make a full report at some later meeting.

The idea of purchasing property and erecting a suitable building that would be a source of revenue to the stockholders appears to have struck a popular chord and will meet with ready support from the members of the lodge when plans can be perfected for an organization. The idea is to build a three-story building, the major portion of which can be rented and be a source of revenue.

The election of officers resulted in the choice of the following members for the coming term:

Worthy president—J. C. Nichols.
Worthy vice-president—Wm. J. Lamuriz.
Worthy chaplain—Samuel Tall.

A MISCELLANEOUS SHOWER GIVEN FOR MISS DAHLEN

Orfordville Young Lady Soon to Be Married Guest of Honor at Surprise Party.

Orfordville, Wis., Dec. 3.—Miss Julia Dahlen was delightfully surprised by about forty of her young lady friends last night. The party which was given in the club over the drug store occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Roeder, was a miscellaneous shower in honor of her approaching marriage to Edward Roeder. Miss Dahlen was sent to the home on an errand and when she arrived there she found a host of her friends assembled. The time was most enjoyably spent. Light refreshments were served. Miss Dahlen received many beautiful gifts.

Miss Hazel Maston was given a farewell party on Tuesday evening by twenty-two of her schoolmates which was a surprise to her. Light refreshments were served and the evening spent in playing games. Miss Maston was presented with many beautiful presents.

A few days ago as Amos Tollefson was opening the gate to let the cows out of the yard they pushed the gate over onto him, hurting him quite badly, but he is now able to be about again.

Miss Ida Olson of Blanchardville is visiting her sister, Mrs. H. G. Holden. Mrs. Chas. Buncener of Broadhead came Tuesday to spend the day at J. M. Cleveland's.

Arthur Farmer moved on Wednesday from the Peterson farm to the farm he recently purchased south of Broadhead, known as the Sorrenson farm.

The Hoedor family moved into the hotel on Tuesday.

RESULTS OF FOOD

Health and Natural Conditions Come From Right Feeding.

Man, physically, should be like a perfectly regulated machine, each part working easily in its appropriate place. A slight derangement causes undue friction and wear, and frequently ruins the entire system.

A well-known educator of Boston found a way to keep the brain and the body in that harmonious co-operation which makes a joy of living.

"Two years ago," she writes, "being in a condition of nervous exhaustion, I resigned my position as teacher, which I had held for over 40 years. Since then the entire rest has, of course, been a benefit, but the use of Grape-Nuts has furnished one great cause of illness in the past, namely, constipation, and its attendant evils."

"I generally make my entire breakfast on a raw egg beaten into four spoonfuls of Grape-Nuts, with a little hot milk or hot water added. I like it extremely, my food assimilates, and my bowels take care of themselves. I find my brain power and physical endurance much greater and I know that the use of the Grape-Nuts has contributed largely to this result."

"It is with feelings of gratitude that I write this testimonial, and trust it may be the means of aiding others in their search for health."

"Look in pkgs. for the little book, 'The Road to Wellville.' 'There's a Reason.'"

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

SUGGESTIVE QUESTIONS

On the Sunday School Lesson by Rev. Dr. Linscott For the International Newspaper Bible Study Club.

Copyright, 1909, by Rev. T. S. Linscott, D.D., Dec. 5th, 1909.

(Copyright, 1909, by Rev. T. S. Linscott, D.D.) Paul on the Grace of Giving. II. Cor. viii:1-15.

Golden Text—Remember the words of the Lord Jesus, how he said, 'It is more blessed to give than to receive.' Acts xx:35.

Are these words in the Golden Text quoted from Jesus, hyperbolic, that is, a rhetorical overstatement, or is it literally true, that it is more blessed to give than to receive, and if so, why? (This question must be answered in writing by members of the club.)

Verse 1-15—Is it according to animal nature, or to average human nature, to give to others outside of kith and kin?

Is giving liberally, intelligently and systematically, to religion and charity, always a "grace," that is, an inclination Divinely imparted?

What is the relation between giving and loving?

If we are in need or "affliction" ourselves, will the grace of giving still operate in us, if our hearts are right?

May "deep poverty," great "joy" and rich "liberality" be in the same life, and is such a combination natural or supernatural?

There was great poverty and suffering among the Christians at Jerusalem, and the liberality of the poor churches at Macedonia to relieve their need is what Paul here refers to; contrast the evil at Jerusalem, with the resultant good grace of giving developed at Macedonia, and say which is the greater; that is did the result do as much good, or exceed the evil done by the cause?

Titus it would appear was appointed to present to the Corinthians the need of the Jerusalem Christians, to take up a collection, and to develop in them the grace of giving; why is there no work more noble, or duty more imperative, than for ministers and teachers to touch the people the duty and joy of giving?

Verse 7-8—Paul apparently assumes that a person may abound "in faith and utterance, and knowledge, and in love," and not abound in the grace of giving; but is he right, for how can such a thing be possible?

Paul states that he did not urge the grace of giving by "commandment"; is it therefore any less the duty, and privilege of every Christian, rich and poor, to abound in this grace?

Verse 9—What should be the supreme motive, and what is the greatest inducement to give liberally?

What is the chief grace in the re-splendent character of Jesus?

Did the giving of Jesus of himself, and all he had for us, imply permanent poverty for him, or was it the surest way to all that great wealth is supposed to stand for?

Why does giving of all kinds finally result in getting more of that which we give, than would be possible if we kept it? (Think of money, love, knowledge, experience, encouragement, etc.)

Verse 10-11—What is the difference in promising a subscription to religion or benevolence and not paying it, and not paying your grocer or baker?

Verse 12-14—What is the proportion of our income which the Bible demands of us, as a minimum?

What are some of the many advantages of the titling system?

Verse 15—What reason is there to believe that if we give systematically to God's cause that we ourselves shall never lack?

DISORDER IS HIGH; FLOUR MILLS IDLE

ST. PAUL POLICE TAKE PRECAUTIONARY MEASURES TO PREVENT RIOTING.

STRIKE SITUATION SERIOUS

Non-Unionists Are Being Brought From Chicago and Distributed to Various Points—Some Disorder Has Already Resulted.

St. Paul, Minn., Dec. 3.—The switchmen's strike has assumed such a menacing aspect and reached such a magnitude that police reserves of St. Paul have been provided to grapple with any outbreak of violence in the yards of the railroads.

Hundreds of non-union men from Chicago are being brought in, and trouble is feared. Reports from Duluth that rioting had broken out there increased the fears of the authorities here.

Situation Is Serious.

Chief John J. O'Connor of the police department admitted that he considered the situation serious when he issued orders requiring all members of his day force to stay on duty at Central station until 10:30 o'clock in the evening, until all danger of a clash between the strikers and the strike breakers is ended.

According to the railroad officials, the beginning of the end of the switchmen's strike is in sight. One prominent official, who has been active in managing the strike, said today that the railroads were handling 30 per cent. of all business offered.

"We are employing new men as fast as they come, and we are moving a large amount of packing freight. In a week the public will not know that there is a strike on among the switchmen."

Between 200 and 300 men arrived from Chicago and were distributed about St. Paul, Minneapolis and Duluth. The railway managers claim they can get plenty of men to take the place of the switchmen and that some of the men now on hand are experienced switchmen.

As against the optimistic statements of the railroad managers, the strike leaders say they are in a stronger position than they have been since the strike started. They refer to the fact that the Brotherhood of Trainmen and Conductors passed resolutions in joint session declaring that they would "stand neutral" and only do such switching work as they have always done.

Factories Reduce Forces.

Factory forces are being reduced owing to the shortage of supplies caused by the freight tie-up and the two big shops of the Great Northern railroad in St. Paul, employing 1,000 men, failed to open for business.

All but one of the 23 big flour mills in Minneapolis are idle, although the millers say they will know in 24 hours whether they will open their mills shortly.

Imported strikebreakers wearing special police badges were reported on duty at the Union station yards by strike pickets, and when President Hawley learned that these men had been imported he called the attention of the state labor commissioner to the report.

Labor Commissioner McEwen said that if the men wearing police badges were not residents of Minnesota, they and those responsible for their presence in the state were violating the state law. Mr. McEwen stated that if he finds that non-residents of Minnesota are wearing special police badges he will at once order their arrest, as well as those who brought them here, if they appear liable under the law.

Duluth Yards in Riot.

Duluth, Minn., Dec. 3.—Reports from the yards sent police reserves hurrying to the aid of non-union men who were attacked by rioters and stoned.

The strikers posted themselves on the viaducts crossing the railroad tracks, and several of the crews were stoned.

If the switchmen's strike is not settled within 48 hours, probably 5,000 men will be idle in Duluth, and the range cities, which get all their supplies from the head of the lakes, will be in imminent danger of a food and coal famine. Duluth also will suffer from a shortage of food supplies.

IOWA'S CORN SHOW IS OPENED.

Annual Exposition Attracts Thousands of State's Citizens.

Des Moines, Ia., Dec. 3.—The seventh annual Iowa Corn exposition, which for some days has been in process of installation in the New Coliseum, was thrown open to the public today. It is a remarkably complete affair and has attracted thousands of farmers and other citizens of the state. Since Monday the judges have been passing on the competitive exhibits, and they are now ready to make their awards of the premiums, which amount to $20,000, and to tell just what points were taken into consideration so that the corn grower may know his shortcomings.

Sutton Defeats Cline.

New York, Dec. 3.—George Sutton of Chicago, by defeating Harry Cline of Philadelphia in their match in the 182 billiard championship tournament at Madison Square garden concert hall, won the right to fight it out for the championship with Calvin Demarest. Sutton barely nipped Cline out by a score of 500 to 480.

J. P. MORGAN BUYS EQUITABLE.

Controls Life Assurance Society with Its $472,000,000 Assets.

New York, Dec. 3.—Control of the Equitable Life Assurance society, which was secured by Thomas P. Ryan soon after the insurance scandals of some years ago, has passed to J. P. Morgan, with the $472,000,000 of assets which the company declared in its last statement.

Apart from its magnitude as a chapter in the history of finance, the transfer marks a complete reversal of the old order under which the insurance companies controlled the destinies of the banks and trust companies, as now a banker will control one of the largest insurance companies.

The announcement issued from the office of Morgan & Co. was brief and contained none of the inside facts of the transaction.

Neither Mr. Morgan nor his partners would give any details beyond these bare facts. They remained silent regarding the exact amount of stock bought by them and the price they paid.

Peculiarly Worded.

BUSINESS CONDITIONS

The railroads of the country are the best business barometers. If they are moving a large traffic—passenger and freight—it is certain that the country is in a prosperous condition.

Then, too, the railroads, while they share to a large extent in the general prosperity, also exert a decided influence upon that condition by turning back into the circulation a large proportion of their revenue for new equipment, improvements, extensions, better train service and safety appliances, not forgetting the necessity for additional new trains between our large cities, and when you see such a system as the New York Central lines, with a national reputation of being "America's Greatest Railroad System," whose passenger service from Chicago, St. Louis and Cincinnati to the east is without equal, adding new trains of the "Limited Type," you can make up your mind that the occasion demands such service and that the country is in a prosperous condition.

"As an example of what might be termed a 'multiplicity of trains' to New York and Boston, the New York Central lines have been operating from Chicago eighteen trains a day, eleven from the LaSalle street station and seven from Central station, Twelfth street and Michigan avenue, and now, in addition, they announce another high-class train known as 'New York Central Number Six,' leaving Chicago, LaSalle street station, at 10:15 a. m. daily, arriving New York 9:15 next morning, a twenty-two-hour train of the same high-class type as the famous 'Twentieth Century Limited.' We predict a successful future for this new train, considering as it does with western trains, and supplying the demand for fast daylight service, crossing Indiana and Ohio during the day and down the lower Hudson river the next morning."

"This flattering notice is from the Chicago Evening Post. It speaks well for the prosperity of the country and only lacks the information which interests all travelers, namely, the price for riding on the new 22-hour train."

The railroad fare between Chicago and New York has long been supposed to be $20, but this is only a supposition, as the rate only applies to freight and accommodation trains.

The much-advertised and well-equipped trains on the trunk lines are no better than the everyday trains running west and south over a dozen different roads, yet the toll demanded is from one to ten dollars extra. This amounts to a hold-up pure and simple. The trains are no faster nor better than western trains at regular rates.

If the trunk lines care to popularize themselves with the traveling public, let them put on a $20 train between Chicago and New York and it will soon advertise itself.

"There is no politics in the commission plan of government. This in itself is worth all it costs in the way of increased salaries. With the work properly divided a number of offices can be dispensed with. Any bank in the city would be glad to serve the city as treasurer at a nominal salary, and the work of the clerk can be performed by a stenographer under the direction of a commissioner, with time to spare for other duties. When the ward funds are dispensed with it might be possible for the commission to handle the streets intelligently.

HOW IT WORKS

"The city of Indianapolis now confronts a situation in which its mayor-elect, a poor man, is trying to discharge the financial obligations he incurred, not so much in the final election as before the primaries—obligations he entered into so as to carry the various wards for the nomination."

This paragraph is from the Indianapolis Star and has to do with the initial performance of the primary law. The Indianapolis Star, in commenting, says:

"The facts in the case are briefly these: Mr. Shank was urged to be a candidate, but his party couldn't give him the nomination. The usual machinery by which the members of a party are brought into agreement about candidates had been abolished. He had to go 'direct to the people' and be reelected from the expense. He could not meet the necessary expenses himself. Neither could he appeal to party influence in party success to move the people to action."

"So Mr. Shank at first refused to run. Then an arrangement was made under which he did run and was nominated and elected. Men were found in each ward who agreed, for a consideration, to find the money with which to send out speakers and hire halls, and print and distribute literature, explaining to the people why Mr. Shank, and not one of his opponents, should be mayor."

"The consideration was that Mr. Shank, if elected mayor, should run over to those who had organized the campaign and paid its expenses city patronage to indemnify them for their outlays. What purposes Mayor Shank is how to do this without putting rascals or incompetents—especially incompetents—into city jobs."

"Here is a scandalous situation, not the less scandalous because Mr. Shank, it seems to be admitted, is anxiously and honestly trying to pay his political debts with as little injury as possible to the public service. But to get his office Mr. Shank was compelled to mortgage his power of appointment directly and in set terms. He had to buy his office with specific allotments of patronage. And it was precisely this sort of thing, we are told, that the direct primary would abolish."

It requires either money or influence to secure office under the primary law. The Indianapolis mayor paid a high price for his office.

A NEW DEPARTMENT.
The interest in waterways and the conservation of natural resources is so universal that congress in the near future will be obliged to recognize it. The plan advocated and briefly outlined is to create a fund by a bond issue of $500,000,000, and with this money to conduct an intelligent campaign for permanent improvements.

The argument used is that the haphazard way of spending special appropriations is an extravagant waste of money, and this is true.

The New York Board of Trade and Transportation, anticipating that something may be done, is using its influence to have the congress create a national department of public works, whose mission it shall be to supervise the improvements contemplated.

That this should be done will be apparent to every thinking mind. The task is a stupendous undertaking, requiring the most careful and able supervision. The work already done, along this line, has been parceled out among a small corps of army engineers. Doubt is expressed, and with good reason, whether these young men are competent to handle the larger undertaking, even if they had the time. Their number is small, and they are educated as military engineers, and their time is largely devoted to this work.

A national department of public works would be thoroughly equipped and devote its time exclusively to the work. If the appropriation is made such a board should be created without delay.

The macadam streets, that are turned over to the city as finished, are covered with a top dressing of limestone that is ruined by sprinkling carts in less than three months. If it is necessary to use this rotten material in order to keep the stones crusher busy the streets should be finished with a dressing which is dust and water proof, and which can be put on at light expense. This would save the sprinkling nuisance, and add to the life of the pavement.

Collier's Weekly is carrying a heavy load of responsibility and its regulation department is working overtime. The last issue contains a ballot which pledges the signer to use his influence in electing congressmen who will agree to work for the defeat of "Uncle Joe" Cannon. That is a high and lofty ambition, worthy of the much-ravaged aggregation behind it. What would the country do without the great national regulator?

The Gazette of last evening contained the law which provides for the commission plan of government. The law was published six weeks ago, but many people seem to have overlooked it. A careful study of it will enable the voters to vote intelligently when the question is submitted in January. Extra copies of the law may be had at the Gazette office without charge.

The little republic of Nicaragua will profit by the protection of the United States government. President Zelaya lacked the ability to govern himself, to say nothing about his lack of ability as a ruler. The navy is sometimes useful in times of peace.

Heart to Heart Talks.

By EDWIN A. NYE.

A SON'S INGRATITUDE.

The meanest man has been found. His name shall not be dignified by mention, but he lives at Lee's Summit, Mo.

This man banished his mother, aged eighty-six years, from his home to an out-house in his back yard.

And then he insulted public opinion by quoting Scripture in defense of his unfilial procedure:

"Upon complaint of persons in Lee's Summit that the old lady was being neglected an officer of the Humane Society of St. Louis went there to investigate."

After he had seen where and how the mother lived this officer said to the son:

"I wouldn't treat a dog of mine that way."

And this is what the son said: "We had to put her out of the house. SHE IS SO OLD SHE CANNOT TAKE CARE OF HERSELF, and her PRESENCE in the house was UN-BEARABLE. My wife couldn't live in the same house with her, and, besides, my wife is not strong and will not wait on her."

"Then," responded the indignant officer, "I would have given my mother the house and taken the shed for myself."

Whereupon the unnatural son had the presumption to respond:

"Doesn't the Bible say to forsake your father and mother and cleave to your wife?"

Which was like Satan quoting Scripture for his own edification.

The Scriptures nowhere order a man to forsake his father and mother in the sense this man would have it.

On the contrary—

One of the positive injunctions of the old book is the plain one, "Honor thy father and thy mother."

And the same Scripture declares, "How sharper than a serpent's tooth is a thankless child!"

Eighty-six and helpless—therefore thrust her out!

One wonders what sort of stuff such a man is made of. Because the mother who bore him in agony and nursed him to manhood can no longer care for herself he thrusts her into quarters unfit for a dumb brute, there to die.

Surely God has patience!

Poor old mother!

One can but hope that her second childhood may have come back to her and that there in the old shed she may have smiled and played among her rags, unselfishly unconscious of her boy's ingratitude.

Shop early in December.

Uncle Walt THE POET PHILOSOPHER

(Copyright, 1900, by George M. Shaw Adams.)

THE BOOK form, but have the price; The poet feels that if he'd had a career that will not take him far, a book that has a small of Zenda will help him buy a motor car. And when the world is driven frantic by pipe-dream kings and kindred rot, some other themes, though less romantic, most always seem to hit the spot. A writer may go on Shakespeare, about the common people's wrongs, or write a three weeks' book so during your road it with a pair of lungs. Or one may touch on private scandals, on matrimony and his strife, and dig around, like howling vandals, to unearth domestic life. The church is always there to tuck with all your keen and trenchant words, to un-dervive the strident words of fifty million ink-stained fools. O poet, seeking wealth and glory, write novels—they're the goods that take! But do not try to write a story, just for the good old story's sake!

SUDDEN DEATH OF
MRS. GEO. M. M'KEY

PASSED AWAY AT MIDNIGHT AF-TER BRIEF ILLNESS.

A SHOCK TO THE COMMUNITY

Heart Failure Induced by Stomach
Malady Was the Immediate Cause—Funeral Sunday Afternoon.

Almost without warning, shortly after twelve o'clock last evening, silence succeeded the soft-spoken word and heavy shadows crossed the threshold of another happy Janesville home.
Mrs. George M. M'Key, who had been slightly indisposed for some time past,
was seized about half past eight o'clock, with a severe attack of the stomach malady with which she had suffered, at intervals, for several years. When Dr. Fred Sutherland, who was called to attend her, left the house at 10:30 the intense pain appeared to have been materially lessened. Towards midnight Mrs. M'Key answered a call to her bedroom and redressed a hot-water bottle. At midnight he was awakened by some premonition, or perhaps by the light in the sick-chamber. The wife was dying when he reached her side. In response to his summons, Dr. Sutherland again hurried to the scene, but the hour had passed and he was alone
two minutes before his arrival at a quarter after twelve o'clock.
The son, Douglas M'Key, who is attending the University of Wisconsin, arrived here from Madison at four o'clock this morning and the daughter, Mrs. Charles B. Quarles, and her in-sister came from Milwaukee at seven o'clock. A message had been sent to William Alfred Douglas at Fargo, N.
D., an uncle of the deceased.
Mrs. M'Key was a daughter of Mr.
and Mrs. A. W. Douglas and was born at Lockport, New York, March 28, 1830. She was married to George M.
M'Key on June 15, 1851.
Funeral services will be held at the home, 55 South East street, at two o'clock Sunday afternoon, the Rev.
John McKinney officiating. In deference to a sentiment expressed by the deceased one in life, flowers are requested not to send flowers.

KEEP MILLINERY ON;

New Theatre Raises Motion-Picture
Curtain to Allow Ladies to Keep Hats On.
There will be no more stretching and cranking of necks to see around and over wonderful creations of head-millinery at the Lyric Theatre theatre after Saturday. And neither will ladies be asked to "please remove" their hats. Out of courtesy to the ladies and consideration of all patrons the progressive management of this new theatre is doing the public the favor of raising the curtain on which the pictures are shown so that everyone may have a perfect view
from any part of the house regardless of the hats and heads in front.
This unusual improvement should be appreciated by those who frequent the theatre. The Lyric is now the most modern, comfortable, as well as beautiful theatre of this class open to the public.

United Commercial Travelers' next social dance will be given December 4th, East Side Odd Fellows' hall.

Link and Pin ROADS IMPORTING STRIKE BREAKERS

Four Hundred Passed Through Here
Last Night—Some Remain
in Janesville.

Except that the railroads have imported over a thousand men who they claim are switchmen, to take the places of the strikers on the roads in the northwest, there are practically no new developments in the strike situation. Four hundred of the imported stock passed through Janesville last night at 12:15 on 515 on route to St. Paul and Minneapolis. Whether or not there will be four hundred on hand when their destination is reached is a question, for at nearly every station between Chicago and Janesville at least ten or more left the train until it was found necessary to lock the car doors in order to keep the men in. A number of them left the train here and are to be seen on the streets today, generally looking for the price of a drink.

In addition to importing the strike-breakers, the roads are also importing no expense in putting their side of the situation before the public and are paying advertising rates in many of the big dailies for column stories. The managers claim that the strikers have already begun to split in that the men at Duluth have voted to return to work. Only twenty-one of the 117 strikers are still out, but all those who returned are members of the Teamsters union, so that the solidarity of the switchmen's union seems to be unbroken.

In the meantime reports of blocked traffic and enormous losses on the part of manufacturers continue to pour in. Thousands of cars of freight destined for this state and Illinois are piling up on the roads and sidings. The huge mills in Minnesota and elsewhere in the northwest are in danger of a coal famine. The roads claim that they are rapidly securing control of the situation and that before long freight will be moving freely, but the union officials state that traffic is completely paralyzed and the roads will remain at a standstill until wages are increased.

That even this present trouble is of secondary importance, for it is feared that other roads besides the thirteen will be affected. The situation in Chicago is still critical and company officials are expending every effort in an attempt to keep the switchmen at work. The switchmen on the twenty-eight roads entering Chicago have demanded an increase in wages and if their demands are refused when the question is brought up for settlement, today there is a strong probability that a strike will ensue. The roads which are in the greatest danger are the Chicago and North-Western, Rock Island, Lake Shore and Burlington, Chicago and Alton.

Although other associations have refused to take an active part in the struggle, if strike-breakers are able to keep the cars moving, there is a strong likelihood that the freight handlers' union will refuse to handle freight that has been switched by non-union men. The Brotherhood of Railway Teamsters has also decided not to allow any of its members to switch their trains or take the places of the strikers.

MAY USE NEW YARDS TO HELP BREAK THE STRIKE

Supposition is That Yards Are Being Cleared in Order to Handle Perishable Freight.

Indications that the roads are pursuing a well defined plan of action are already apparent in this city. At the new yards word has been received that no more trains will be sent in and special efforts are being made to clear the yards of all cars now waiting on the tracks. Ten engines, many of them light, were ordered from Chicago for this city between five o'clock this morning and two this afternoon. These engines will take on the 117's and 1,200 for the class 2, and the chief train dispatcher has issued orders that the trains must all leave Janesville by eleven o'clock this evening. It is generally believed that after the yard is cleared that it will be used for perishable freight on account of the blockade in the north.

SWITCHMAN IS WORKING IN SPITE OF A SEVERE WOUND

Switchman Atkins certainly has a strong constitution or he would not be able to work under the handicap that he now is. While in Chicago about a week ago he was wounded in the thigh, the bullet traversing his leg from his hip to the rear of his knee. Although the wound would send many a man to the hospital, Atkins has not allowed it to interfere with his labors and is working steadily although his leg is not yet healed.

COLLISION LATE LAST NIGHT DAMAGED ENGINES SLIGHTLY

Switch-engine 107 and a Northern Wisconsin locomotive, number 210, met suddenly last night during the heavy fog and exchanged compliments. They were not very demonstrative, however, and the damage done was trivial.

Engineer Strump and Fireman Grubbs of the Northern Wisconsin Division displaced Engineer Luddy and Fireman Coon on the Watertown switch run last night and the latter reported for work on the board this morning.

Fireman J. W. Lewis reported for work on the sugar-beet switch-engine this morning with Engineer Coon, Mathison, who has been relieving him, is on the board.

Engineer Cole, who had 534 and 541 yesterday, went on the board this morning when Engineer Lewis took the run.

Fireman Duvoy went on the board this morning after acting as day dispatcher for a short time.

Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul To fill a long felt want, the company has decided to install through sleeping-car service between Rockford and St. Paul and Minneapolis. The sleeper will be put on at Rockford and will be operated by patrons of the line in Detroit, Janesville and Madison. The car will leave here at 7:15 in the evening.

Fireman Shinn went east on an extra this morning at five o'clock with Engineer Folger.

Fireman Kinkell is on the switch-engine today with Engineer James.

Engineer Meyer and Fireman McAniff took an extra east this morning at 11:15 with engine 1722.

Machinist Charles Young returned from Mineral Point this morning after doing some repair work on an engine there last night.

Engineer Higgins had the second switch-engine last night.

Fireman Hummel was on 72 and 1 last night with Engineer Allen.

Engineer McCarthy and Fireman Green double-headed Engineer Kohler out on 101 last night with engine 50.

Fireman Drummond went out on 91 this morning with Engineer Schickler.

GROSSCUP TO RENOUNCE PARTY.

Federal Judge Announces He Will Leave the G. O. P.

Chicago, Dec. 3.—Judge Peter S. Grosscup of the federal court, has announced himself as a political renegade, ready to renounce the Republican party and join the fight against it. His views are given in an article on "Prosperity with Justice" in the December number of the North American Review. President Taft is criticized, and the Roosevelt policies are commended and held to have been shelved by the present administration.

The fact that he was a Republican appointee, Judge Grosscup says, will not deter him from his course. He will not resign, but will remain on the bench. Dissatisfaction with the present tariff law and futile efforts to control the corporations is the theme of the article, in which Judge Grosscup champions the yet unborn party with which he is ready to join for the overthrow of "reactionism."

Pay Fines in Land Frauds.

Portland, Ore., Dec. 3.—Fines aggregating $45,000 were paid in the federal court by 15 leading citizens of Umatilla county who had pleaded guilty to defrauding the government of part of the public domain. Col. J. H. Itor, prominent attorney, paid $10,000, the heaviest fine. The others who pleaded guilty were stockmen, ranchers and business and professional men.

Wisconsin Hunter Killed.

Ashland, Wis., Dec. 3.—It. M. Hannon of Westboro is dead here. He was shot through the abdomen while hunting.

TROOPS ARE RUSHED SOUTH

WARSHIPS AND TROOPSHIPS
ARE HASTENING TO NICARAGUAN WATERS.

ZELAYA IN FOR SPANKING

United States Prepares to Lay Heavy Hand on Dictator—Breaking of Diplomatic Relations Followed by Hasty Preparations for War.

Washington, Dec. 3.—With the determination that a stable government shall be established and maintained in Nicaragua the United States government followed up its abrupt termination of diplomatic relations with that war-driven republic with rapid and vigorous moves.

With the Vicksburg cleared for action in the harbor of Corinto and its guns trained upon the town, and the fact established that an American landing force is camped in the plaza of Bluefields, the state and navy departments worked in harmony in the endeavor to place Nicaragua under the absolute control of an armed force at the earliest possible moment.

Warships Are Rushed Away.

As a result the cruiser Prairie steamed away from Philadelphia with 700 marines aboard, bound for Corinto via Colon and Panama, and the cruiser Albany and the gunboat Yorktown are rushing from Magdalena Bay to the same destination, under imperative orders.

Rear Admiral W. W. Kimball was hurried to Philadelphia to catch the Prairie before she left. He will be in command of the naval forces at Nicaragua.

Orders were issued to navy yards along the Atlantic and Pacific coasts to get their detachments of marines in readiness to respond to a hurry call, which may be issued at any moment.

Cabinet in Special Session.

The climax to the situation came when the president summoned his cabinet in special session. Although it assembled ostensibly to hear the president read his annual message to congress and to witness the presentation of an honor to a brave seaman of Salem, it was gathered really to discuss the Nicaraguan situation. This particularly related to the advisability of the president sending a special message to congress asking for permission for the executive to go forward unimpededly in the protection of American life and property and the establishment of a stable government in Nicaragua, as well as the securing of permanent peace in Central America.

Conditions which have confronted the state department for so many years in some of the republics south of the United States has grown intolerable. The president and his official family have therefore determined that there must be a more vigorous policy. If the United States is not to be continually harassed and its peaceful relations with leading European powers threatened at frequent intervals.

Does Not Recognize Estrada.

The Knox note which accompanied the notification to the Nicaraguan charge that his passports were given him did not recognize the Estrada government, even though this government has given the revolutionists its moral support for weeks. It called attention to the fact there exists no stable government upon which this government could call for the protection of its interests and citizens.

In view of this alarming condition of affairs, and the further fears that anarchy might prevail, a general notice was served upon all the people of Nicaragua that the United States would hold them responsible for any harm to American interests, individually.

Although the Nicaraguan charge has telegraphed the Zelayan government the Knox note, this government has directed its representatives in that republic to notify Zelaya of the intentions of the United States. Similar information has been conveyed to the Estrada government which has possession of the eastern portion of the country.

The state department makes it clear that it can go to any extreme it sees fit in its determination to afford protection to American citizens and citizens in foreign countries.

Cruiser Prairie Aground.

Philadelphia, Dec. 3.—The auxiliary cruiser Prairie ran aground on the soft mud of the Delaware river a few hours after weighing anchor at the Philadelphia navy yard, bound for the Caribbean. It is not believed that the vessel sustained any injury. Besides the 700 marines, there are 183 blue-jackets in the crew of the Prairie.

Egan Not to See Cook Data.

Copenhagen, Dec. 3.—United States Minister Egan has declined the invitation of Chancellor Topp of the University of Copenhagen to be present when Dr. Frederik A. Cook's polar records are opened. Minister Egan gave as a reason his approaching departure for the United States.

Husband Held for Wife Murder.

Deatur, Tex., Dec. 3.—D. H. Hockett, farmer of Anneville, is in jail charged with the murder of his wife. The woman had been shot and her throat cut. Hockett asserts she committed suicide.

Shop early in December.

HOME, NOT STAGE, HER HEART'S DESIRE

Reno, Nev.—It was plain Margaret Illington for four years. The judge took the name of Frohman away from her to become Mrs. E. J. Howes. Here is the old, old story of the thwarting of her heart's desire. She wanted a home like other wives a man in it to make love to her every evening. She wanted to get out of the limelight and stay out of it. All these things were denied her and now she has found a millionaire to serve her for all time.

A DISJOINTED NARRATIVE.

PRESIDENT PLANTZ WRITES OF CONTEST

Head of Lawrence College Talks of the Beloit-Lawrence Game Dispute.

During this past football season Lawrence college and Beloit played a game of football at Appleton which caused the athletic relations of the two institutions to be broken off. The Beloit players charge that they were brutally treated by the players and cheated by the umpires, and that the Lawrence team had men on it who had violated the college rules of eligibility. In reply to these charges President Samuel Plantz of Lawrence gives out the following interview on the matter which may be of interest to local readers. The interview is sent from Lawrence to the Gazette by the college press agent as it is sent to other papers throughout the state. It is as follows:

The charges against Lawrence college in connection with the recent Lawrence-Beloit football game have brought out some of the most sensational statements in connection with college athletics in Wisconsin in years. President Samuel Plantz of Lawrence, who was in the east attending the annual meeting of the trustees of the Carnegie Foundation, at the time of the game, when asked yesterday concerning the report that Beloit had several athletic relations with Lawrence as a result of the game, said:

"I have not seen Coach Catlin, but understand Beloit has cancelled its basketball game. Before the football season opened I wrote to the presidents of each of the Wisconsin colleges as to whether or not they should be allowed to play under the four year rule, as he had played for two years while in the academy and two years since being in the college proper. Dean Erickson of Ripon wrote that Ripon would have no objection to Beyer playing. Presidents Carver of Carroll, and Eaton of Beloit, answered that the rule should not be retroactive and that Beyer should be allowed to play. Northwestern took the same stand and I would use men under the same circumstances."

"A short time before the Beloit game, the last of the season, I received a letter from President Eaton, over five weeks after his other letter, in which he stated that the Beloit faculty did not agree with him in the Beyer case and thought Beyer should not be permitted to play. It was then too late for me to change our line-up and I so informed him and also told him that three-fifths of the schools held the rule should not be retroactive. That is why I permitted Beyer to play."

"Under the migrant rule a student is not allowed to leave one school, which he has represented in athletics, for another, and play until he has been in that school a year. I am informed that Newman, of the Beloit team, made the statement in the presence of witnesses, that he had played at Marquette three years on the varsity; that he matriculated at Marquette Medical school this fall and then entered Beloit."

"Woodworth, of Janesville, who played tackle on Beloit's team, and whom I understand has been elected captain for next year, attended Lawrence for a time last year and was expelled from our institution. When I learned early in the fall that he had entered Beloit, I informed Beloit that he had been expelled from Lawrence and had not received an honorable discharge as is the custom before one college will receive a student who has been expelled from another."

Coach Catlin, who left immediately after the game for the north on a deer hunting trip, when asked about the affair said he thought a Beloit newspaper reporter started the whole trouble. He said the reporter saw the Lawrence-Northwestern game the week before and riding down in the bus with the Lawrence players after the game said "Why Beloit will beat you 40 to 0."

"I think it was the surprise we sprung when we not only won the game but Beloit only made first down four times during the entire contest, that caused him to make the groundless charges. Referee Waugh, reported as an Appleton man was never in this city until shortly before noon the day of the game and left the same evening. 'Empire State' is a Marquette man who has been practicing dentistry here since summer. He is a personal friend of Newman of the Beloit team."

sonal friend of Newman of the Beloit team. "Before the game the Beloit officials were in my office and said they were perfectly satisfied with the officials and there was no protest before the game. As for Beyer tackling Vohmiller when his ankle was broken, Beyer was not within ten yards of him. Vohmiller slipped and fell over the line after catching a forward pass, and just as Tippet tackled him and broke his ankle when he slipped. "The claim that Lawrence repeated, by made forward passes over the center of the line is ridiculous. We used the forward pass only five times during the game. The play objected to was a shift formation and the ball was muffed over five yards from the center. We used the same play against Minnesota, Wisconsin, Carroll, and Northwestern without a protest and last year I used it at Iowa throughout the season without a protest. Beloit had absolutely no grounds for complaint in that game."

NATIONAL EDUCATORS DISCUSS TRADE SCHOOLS

More Than Twenty States Represented by Delegates at Milwaukee Meeting.

Milwaukee, Wis., Dec. 3.—The National society for the Promotion of Industrial Education opened the sessions of its third annual convention in the New Auditorium this morning. Frederick W. Blyver, president of the North West Millable Iron Company, presided. David S. Rose, mayor of Milwaukee, offered a cordial welcome to the delegates present, who represented more than 20 states. Many of the officers of the state branches were present together with a large representation from the colleges and trade schools of the middle west. Mayor Rose extended to all the visitors the freedom of the city, and told them what Milwaukee has done in the development of the School of Trades. He bade them study the fine exhibitions of trade school work in the neighboring halls, and see what the west is doing in industrial education.

The first address of the meeting was made by a representative of organized labor, John Golden of Fall River, Mass., general president of the United Textile Workers of America. Mr. Golden spoke on the growing need for state legislation on industrial education, and pointed out the need for industrial schools developed under state auspices.

Arthur D. Dean, of the New York state department of education, spoke on state needs and laws. Charles R. Richards, director of Cooper Union, New York City, spoke briefly on the exhibition of trade work shown at the convention. He reviewed the plan of the national society to gather together at each meeting a representative showing of the latest and best work being done in trade schools all over the country, and noted the growing excellence of the product of these schools.

Charles F. Perry, supervisor of industrial education in the Milwaukee schools, spoke on methods of developing trade school work for boys, and Mrs. Raymond Robins of the Woman's Trade Union league of Chicago, discussed the industrial education of girls.

The discussion on the subject of trades schools was spirited. Among those who spoke were Miss Anna Hediges, superintendent of the girls' brew Technical School for Girls, New York City; Walter C. Smith, general director of the Winona Technical Institute of Indianapolis, Ind.; and Lewis J. Gustafson, superintendent of the David Rankin, Jr., School of Mechanical Trades of St. Louis.

A public meeting presided over by George Carmon, director of Lewis Institute, Chicago, was held at two p. m. in the auditorium. It was opened by Willet N. Hays, who spoke on "Vocational Education and Legislation." Mr. Hays, assistant secretary of agriculture, presented the need of broad gauge legislation on the subject of industrial training, and reviewed the features of different plans which have been developed in various states.

The discussion which followed was upon corporation schools as organized by different companies for the training of apprentices. It was opened by C. W. Cross, superintendent of apprentices of the New York Central lines and further discussed by Joseph J. Eaton, director of the Trades School of Woburn, N. Y.

At a banquet given to the delegates last evening at the Hotel Pileter, Gov. James O. Davidson was toastmaster. Addresses were made by President Charles Van Hise of the University of Wisconsin; Dr. George H. Martin of Boston, Mass., and Alexander C. Humphreys, president of the National society and head of Stevens Institute of Technology.

In his remarks President Humphreys said:

"Of 13,000,000 young men in the United States between the ages of 21 and 35 years only five per cent. receive in the schools any direct preparation for their vocations, and of every 100 graduates of our elementary schools only eight obtained their livelihood by means of the professions and commercial pursuits, while the remaining 92 supported themselves and their families by their hands."

INQUIRE INTO WIRE COMBINE.

Legislative Committee Investigates Telegraph-Telephone Conditions.

New York, Dec. 3.—The recent acquisition of the Western Union Telegraph Company by the American Telephone & Telegraph Company is to be the subject of inquiry by the state legislative committee now investigating telephone and telegraph conditions in New York state.

The committee has summoned President Vail of the American Telephone & Telegraph Company and President Clory of the Western Union to appear and give information regarding the combination of the telephone and telegraph interests.

PRESENT TAX PLAN; FIRST GUN IS FIRED

ILLINOIS MANUFACTURERS' DELEGATION IS RECEIVED AT WHITE HOUSE.

TAFT MAKES NO PROMISES

La Verne W. Noyes Presents Proclamation with a Statement of Reasons for Postponement of Enforcement of Corporation Tax Law.

Washington, Dec. 3.—When a delegation of prominent business men of Chicago called on President Taft at the White House and presented him with a petition having for its object the suspension of the provisions of the corporation "income" tax, the first gun was fired against that law.

The delegation came to Washington as representatives of the Illinois Manufacturers' association and the National Association of Agricultural Implement and Vehicle Manufacturers.

John M. Glenn, secretary of the first named organization, and La Verne W. Noyes acted as spokesman. The delegates were introduced to the president by Senator Callom. Mr. Taft heard their complaint but gave them no word of encouragement. The president told his callers that he would consider the petition and suggested that they also call on Secretary MacVough of the treasury, which was done.

Noyes States Objections. La Verne W. Noyes, speaking on behalf of the manufacturers, presented a statement of reasons for a postponement of the enforcement of the tax.

"The Illinois Manufacturers' association and the National Association of Agricultural Implement and Vehicle Manufacturers respectively ask your assistance," Mr. Noyes said, "in procuring from congress an extension of time within which schedules must be filed under the requirements of section 38 of the revenue act of August 5, 1909, for the following reasons: "This is the first statute of its kind enacted in this country. Comparatively few corporations have seen the law. The great majority of all business corporations neither have seen it nor have they been informed as to its meaning. The first knowledge of these corporations will get of the law will be when they receive the questions and instructions sent out by the commissioner of internal revenue. Consequently there is the widest diversity of opinion with regard to the meaning of the legislation."

Validity Is Questioned.

"The question of constitutionality has been raised by able lawyers, and though our associations have taken no steps to test its constitutionality, we feel sure that suits will be brought to that end and that only a supreme court decision will settle this issue."

In the Reign of Law. Moral Bread of Mankind. I love a system of policy that in- Affability, mildness, tenderness and smiles such confidence as to give a word which I find would bring back value to land and that renders men so to its original significance of virtue, comfortable on their estates as to I mean good nature, are of daily use; make the sale of them the least of they are the bread of mankind, and their ideas—Arthur Young, "Travels staff of life.—Addison. in France, 1789."

THEATRE

"Going Some," a comedy of unique types and a western setting minus the usual heroics, will be seen here for the first time next Monday evening, December 6, at the Myers theatre. The comedy, which is by Paul Armstrong and Rex Beach, was first brought out, "on trial," in Philadelphia over a year ago. Several New York managers were invited to witness a performance but each of them refused to buy the play. The manner in which Mr. Armstrong and Mr. Beach steadfastly held on to their property and how the Shuberts a year later undertook its metropolitan production and the success the play made are now theatrical history.

The story is that of an alleged college athlete who, finding himself on the "flying board" ranch, New Mexico, with a trio of pretty women, decides to pass himself off as the champion hundred yard runner. As proof he exhibits a lot of medals and a real trainer, Larry Gloss, the latter character being one of the funniest types in the comedy.

A year before the cowboys of the ranch have lost their much-beloved phonograph which they bet in a foot race between one of their own and the cook of the "Centipede" ranch. Anxious to redeem their last honors as well as the treasure they arrange for a second race, and the mock hero, J. Wallingford Speed, is selected to run for them. Speed, much to the amazement and chagrin of his "trainer," accepts. This he does in view of the fact that Culver Covington, the real all runner, is expected at the ranch any day. Meantime, Speed calculates he can make himself solid with the girls and perhaps win a particular one. Opposed to him is the Fresno nightingale, who, a comedy villain in disguise, discovers that Speed as a runner is a fake. The cowboys make a condition that if Speed loses the race both he and his trainer will pay with their lives. Covington, the real champion, finally turns up on crutches, his toe having been broken. But the race is run and won—won by Speed. How does he do it?

San Francisco, Dec. 3.—Judge Canham ordered the release from custody of Abraham Ruef on $300,000 bail.

This action followed a report of three physicians appointed by the court to examine the physical condition of the former political leader. Ruef had been confined in the county jail since November 13 of last year. He is under sentence of 14 years in the state prison for having bribed a supervisor to vote for a trolley franchise for the United railroads.

ACCLAIM PRACTICAL POLITICS.

New York Divine Declares Ministers Should Join Tammany.

New York, Dec. 3.—Rev. Paul Moore Strayer of Rochester, addressing the second session of the sociological conference in Madison Square Presbyterian church, made the startling declaration that young ministers should join Tammany Hall and learn practical politics.

"The young minister," said the Rochester preacher, "should have a course of training in practical politics. He should become a practical politician. He ought to take a course in politics, in Tammany Hall, which is the most successful organization dealing with human beings.

"No man in trouble goes to Tammany Hall without getting a helping hand. If a man is arrested four or five times, or ten times, Tammany Hall stands by him, however lowly he may be. The church ought to copy Tammany Hall—go out and help a man in a pinch."

Alleged Leper Is Held.
Washington, Dec. 3.—John E. Early, the leper, who threw scientists of two continents into a dispute, ventured to show himself in Washington again and was promptly clapped into quarantine. "My George, I never saw anything like the effects of that new treatment, Protone,
for the building up of weight and lost nerve force. It acted more like a miracle for me to be that way. Finally I read about the remarkable process brought about by the use of Protone, so I decided to try it myself. Well, when I look at myself in the mirror now, I think it is somewhat close to large put on just 30 pounds during the last month and never felt stronger or more energetic in my life."

Protone is a powerful inducer of nutrition, increases cell growth, makes perfect
the assimilation of food, increases the number of blood corpuscles, and as a necessary result builds up muscles and solid, healthy flesh, and rounds out the figure.

For women who can never appear stylish in anything they wear because of their thinness, this remarkable treatment may prove a revelation. It is a beauty maker as well as a form builder and nerve strengthening.

It will cost you nothing to prove the remarkable effects of this treatment. It is absolutely non-injurious to the most delicate system. The Protone Company, 1701 Protone Bldg., Detroit, Mich., will send to anyone who sends name and address, a free
package of Protone, with full instructions, to prove that it does the work. They will also send you their book on "Why You Are Thin," free of charge, giving facts which will probably establish you. Send coupon below today with your name and address.

The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON

YESTERDAY I saw a child whipped for spilling grease on her dress and merely scolded for falling a downright lie.

The lie was wicked. The spilling of the grease was merely an accident, or at most a piece of carelessness. Do you think that was the right proportion of punishment?

And do you, when you punish your children, measure the punishment
by the amount of evil intention shown or by the amount of trouble caused you?

And on the whole which do you think is the better way?

"She must be a pretty queer girl not to have known that her present yet," said the lady who is always anxious to believe the worst. "Let me see, she has been married six weeks and I sent it the week before she was married. Of course I wasn't anything but a sugar spoon but that was the best I could afford, and it was sold, which was more than a good many of the things I saw at the wedding, and I think she might have acknowledged it by now anyway."

A few weeks later it came to light that in some way in the shop where the gift was bought a mistake had been made and the spoon had never been sent.

Since then I have heard of two or three similar cases and I have come to the conclusion that it is a very good plan to investigate any fairly acknowledged gift before you condemn the recipient.

What do you think?

Few things does a normal boy hate more and few things do a normal boy more good than several terms at dancing school.

If you suggest dancing lessons to your boy he will probably protest vehemently. I am sure I hope he will for that will show that he is a genuine boyish boy.

But I also hope that you will not allow his protests to avail. For if you stick to your point, however discomfited he may be on those beautiful winter afternoons when he has to go off laden with pumps instead of skates,
he is going to thank you sooner or later.

For not only is the ability to dance a necessary asset for any young man who wants to have much of any social life, but the command of his limbs, the taming down of the bull-headedness of the average boy in company, and the knowledge of small courtesies—all of which he will absorb along with the two-step and waltz—will also be invaluable to him.

If your boy is very obstreperous on this question it may help convince him that the art of dancing is not altogether unmanly to know that at that great soldiers' school, the very name of which makes most boys' hearts throb—West Point—dancing lessons are compulsory.

A BALD-HEADED WOMAN

Shorn of Her Crown of Beauty Losses in Love and Marriage

Hair is certainly most necessary to woman. Who could love and marry a bald-headed woman? What charms could one carry to offset such a disfigurement?

A woman's goal is usually love and marriage. Her growing glory is her hair. The loss of her hair mars her beauty, happiness and success. Yet eight here where we live, are thousands of women neglecting or injuring their hair to such an extent that it is only a matter of time when it will be utterly ruined.

Many women destroy the beauty of their hair through thoughtlessness or ignorance of certain facts. They do not shampoo their hair often enough, or too often. They use soaps or preparations which contain ingredients
harmful to the scalp and hair.

As a result of such treatment dandruff is created, the hair becomes, loses color, falls out, and baldness commences, unless proper and prompt precautions are taken in time. Then again, microbes and certain diseases bring about unhealthy scalp and hair conditions.

Most people can rid themselves of dandruff and correct diseased scalp
and hair conditions if they will use
the right remedy. We have that remedy, and we will positively guarantee that it will eradicate dandruff and prevent baldness or it will not cost the user anything.

That's a pretty broad statement
but we will back it and prove it with our own money. Rosal "egg" Hair Tonic is the remedy that will grow
hair and overcome scalp and hair troubles. It will grow hair even on bald heads, unless all life in the hair roots has been extinguished. The scalp is closed, and the scalp is glazed and shiny. It gets its name from the fact that it grows hair in 93 out of 100
cases, where it received a thoroughly hard, impartial and partial test.

We want you to try Rosal "egg"
Hair Tonic at our risk. You surely cannot lose anything by doing so,
and you will have everything to gain.
You would better think this over, and then come in and see us about this offer. You will be well repaid for your visit to our store. Two sizes, 50 cents and $1.00. Remember you can obtain Rosal Remedies in Jansville
only at our store—The Rosal Store,

SANTA CLAUS WILL BE HERE VERY SOON

Fine Old Chan Is Already Preparing for His Journey Round the World
on Christmas Eve.

It is not so many days now until Christmas and every little boy or girl in the city or in Rock county should have their letter to Santa Claus all ready for him to read. The Jolly Old Chan, whose journey round the world on Christmas Eve is the event of the year in many a household, is already preparing his sleigh and reindeer for their trip.

When the little people in Jansville
are getting ready for bed on Christmas eve the old Saint will be over-crossing the Atlantic giving their little brothers and sisters in Germany, Norway, France and England their presents and by time they are sound asleep he will have crossed the broad waters and be in the United States where thousands of his little friends
live.

Santa Claus does not belong to any country alone. He belongs to the children of the world. The little people who are the men and women of tomorrow. If they are good little boys and girls and write him their letters
he will be sure and remember them.
These letters should be written on one side of the paper, printed or written as plainly as possible, and if mailed should have a two-cent stamp on the envelope. They should be addressed "Care of the Gazette" and they will go into his mail bag that will be sent December 11.

Gossip.
Men seldom gossip, because they can keep informed concerning all the scandals by merely sitting around and listening to the women.

ROCK ISLAND TAKES IN THE LEHIGH VALLEY

Moore-Reid Syndicate Completes Initial Step in Building New Transcontinental System.

New York, Dec. 3.—An important step in the building of a transcontinental railway system of 11,000 miles, controlled by the Moore-Reid syndicate, was made public in the announcement at the office of the Lehigh Valley railroad that William H.
Moore, Daniel G. Reid and E. B.
Moore of the Rock Island Company would be placed on the ticket for the election for directors to the Lehigh Valley Company at the annual meeting of stockholders, January 18, 1901.
Official notice that Rock Island men are to be placed on the Wabash board is expected to be given in the near future.

Another transcontinental system,
paralleling the Moore-Reid lines in many sections, is suggested by the close relations between Edwin Hawley and the Yonkers-Campbell Interests. Should the Frisco be merged with the Hawley roads, a system of 13,000 would be formed, including the Frisco lines in the west, the Missouri,
Kansas & Texas in the southwest,
the Chicago & Alton, the Minneapolis
& St. Louis and the Chesapeake &
Ohio in the north and east.

Neither of these combinations would be subject to attack under the Sherman anti-trust law, as none of the elements are in any sense parallel lines, as in places are the Frisco and Rock Island.

CHRISTMAS DIAMONDS

DIAMONDS are High—But Not at
Our Store

DIAMONDS were never so popular as at the present time

Fickle as Fashion is, she never frowns on diamonds. They are always in style, and always a safe investment. There is no hope of an increased supply, hence the wisdom of buying diamonds, now is so plain that a child can see it, and a gift of diamonds is like opening a bank account for the recipient. When we bought a large stock
last year we made a great saving for our customers, because, regardless of present conditions in the trade, we have not advanced prices, nor shall we do so this season. We show here a few diamond rings selected from our large stock, consisting of a great variety, which we offer at prices that would be out of the question if we had delayed making our purchases until this

NATIONAL APPLE SHOW DESCRIBED

16,000 BUSHELS OF HIGHEST GRADE APPLES EXHIBITED.

GEO. J. KELLOGG A JUDGE

Well Known Nurseryman One of Those to Adjudge Prizes at Big Apple Show in Spokane,
Washington.

Minneapolis, Minn., Dec. 1, 1909.
1026 Hawthorne Ave.

Editor Gazette:

It having been my privilege to act
as one of the judges at the National Apple Show at Spokane, Wash., I will try and give you readers a little idea of what a real apple show is like.
Just imagine thirty carloads of apples, 620 bushels to each car, spread out under one tent covering over three acres, arranged in ear-lows, fourteen of them on racks about fifteen boxes high, and the whole carload arranged so the judges could take the view at a glance.
The other sixteen carloads were arranged in exhibits of ten varieties each, in spaces 6 to 10 ft. all over the grounds, competing for $250 and $100 premiums; then state groups, $100 and $50 and diploma (four of these groups); then foreign countries and single state displays with premiums
the same; then single box displays of twenty-four varieties, premiums, $10, $5 and $25; five-box displays, ten varieties, $50, $15, and diploma; ten-box displays, ten varieties, $125, $50, $100, $100, $50 and diploma.
Fifty apples, weight to win, $100,
$25, and diploma; the biggest apple,
two special premiums, five sweepstakes
prizes, cups and trees. Best keeper, a plate of Jonathan of crop of 1907
awarded $50 and steel spray pump.
New seedlings, special premiums, a hundred entries for by-products by fruit exhibitors, premiums, $10, $5, and diploma; prizes for amateurs. By-products for apples for also articles, gold medals and silver medals. Best orchard views, $100 and $50.
Five hundred each prizes for plates,
five apples on a plate, $2 and $2, and $100 as special in trees.

This made the biggest apple show
the world has ever seen and the awarding of $25,000 in premiums, besides the specials, was given to five of us.
Prof. H. E. Van Dusen of Washington, D. C., was chairman and chief.
His chosen for his assistants, Prof. W. J.
Green of Wooster, Ohio; Senator
H. M. Dunlap of Savoy, Ill.; A. P.
Bathum of Mosler, Ore.; Geo. J. Kellogg of Lake Mills, Wis., and Mrs.
Dunlap, an assistant on jellies, preserves, marmalade, apple butter,
pickles, cider and vinegar.

The judges met in consultation Saturday and divided up the work. Instead of five days we should have had ten and the show ought to have continued from two to four weeks, but the apple men wanted to put their fruit
in the eastern markets before Christmas. I was assigned the 1,400 plates, and when you know there were forty-five varieties of ten to fifty-eight plates of a kind, all worthy a first premium, selecting the best two out of fifty-odd, (there were 200 varieties by 200 exhibitors), together, with the other work given me, it was certainly a hard job. I turned in the plate awards Thursday night—the fifty big apple contest and the jelly department
on Friday. The fifty Gloria Mundi, weighing 71 lbs., took the $100 premium; fifty Wolf River, weighing 68 lbs., 2d prize; fifty Buxton, weighing 57 1/2 lbs., 3d prize.

The fourteen carloads competed for $1,500, $1,000, $250, $100, and a golden banner. A car of Spitzbergen apples from Rogne River, Ore., won the lat prize. There were five or six cars of Rogne Beauties. These could not all win.

One car Whinap took 1st, and another 2nd. One car Staymak Whinap took 1st. One car of Newtons took 1st. One car of Grimes Golden took 1st. One car of Wagners took 1st.

It was by close scrutiny that the premiums were decided. We went to the bottom of many boxes but the puck was all No. 1, no sulders, no imperfect fruit. I did not see a half dozen wormy apples in handling the 1,400 plates. I was sorry I could not give them all a first prize.
I am laying over to attend the Minnesota State Horticultural meeting, December 7-10, which has an enrollment of 3,000 members—the largest society of its kind in the world. They expect to place on exhibition 2,000
plates of apples.

Truly,
GEO. J. KELLOGG.

LABOR AND CAPITAL FROM SIDE OF LABORING MAN

Play at Myers Theatre Last Night
Dealt with the Great Labor Question.

At Myers Theatre last evening "The Lost Paradise" was given before a packed house by the Carl W. Cook Stock company, which is playing a weekly engagement here. The play deals with the question of Capital and Labor, the playwright taking the side of Labor. Arbitration and a strike, if necessary, are suggested as the means by which the laborer may secure what is rightfully his. Tonight a comedy, "The Merry Irish Widow," will be presented and Tomorrow there will be two performances, a matinee in the afternoon and a show in the evening.

SALVATION ARMY PLANNING TO FEED POOR FAMILIES

Supplies Will Be Collected and Sixty Baskets Will Be Distributed to Needy.

In order that the poor of Janesville
may have occasion to feel joyous at Christmas time the members of the local corps of the Salvation Army are hard at work preparing for a feast for the unfortunate ones. Food and vegetables will be collected and these will be divided and placed in baskets, each basket containing enough supplies for one family. Each needy family in the city will be supplied with a Christmas dinner in this way. It is expected that about sixty baskets will be necessary to feed all.

Janesville's stores are bustling out-of-town shoppers.

BIG SWINGFEST OF THE CHEESEMAKERS

Green County Men Enjoyed Day of Athletic Sports Yesterday at Monroe.

(Special to the Gazette.)

Monroe, Wis., Dec. 2.—Adolph Ap-pen, who makes cheese a mile north of here, is again the winning king of the green county cheesemak-ers. The annual swingfest was held at Turner hall yesterday afternoon and Mr. Appen was not a once thrown. He was matched with Jacob Lemacher, a wrestler of some local repute at Montello, and afterwards throw 150 Christian and gained the title. Twenty-six athletic young Swiss entered in the competition,
which held the close interest of 600
spectators throughout the afternoon.
Five hundred couples were in attendance at the cheesemakers' ball in the evening. This event is without equal anywhere in Wisconsin. The Cheesemakers' benefit association held the annual benefit meeting and elected officers as follows: President,
Jacob Rugev; vice president, Ernest Zuercher; secretary, Fred Rubing; treasurer, Jack Karlen, Sr. The association has $5,000 in the treasury.
The third number of the lecture
course, the Delivered male quartet, was a high-class attraction. Old-time melodists were the feature of the concert and solo numbers and a playlet took well with the audience. The next number comes next "Thursday"
and will consist of the Venetian band,
which will give a matinee in the afternoon and a different program in the evening. This company comes highly recommended and is the highest priced attraction on the Citizens' Lecture course.

Dr. Patterson, a Beloit veterinarian,
was sent here by State Veterinarian Clark to make a test of a 7-months-old calf, owned by Mrs. Janet Jones, and found the animal in a perfectly healthy condition. This is the second calf of the cow, known as
"Judge," which has been in quarantine for the past two years, suspected of tuberculosis. There is still some doubt about the cow and the quarantine will be continued.

Eugene Jensen, the cheesemaker who was found dead near Zion, took his life by shooting himself with a revolver. No cause is known for his revolt. Jensen was a resident of Monroe two years ago. Funeral services were conducted from Shiner Bros., undertaking parlors this afternoon at two o'clock, and the remains laid to rest in Greenwood cemetery.

Russell street to the home which Mr.
Trent recently purchased, and which has been remodelled. Mrs. Galusha will move back into her own home.

BUYING CROPS FOR AMERICAN COMPANY

Big Tobacco Trust is Picking Up Crops in Different Parts of the Country.

"As for some weeks past the bulk of the buying of the new crop continues to be done by representatives of the American Tobacco company, who still have their men posted in the growing districts and quickly taking over what has been secured at prices that do not exceed an average of seven cents," says the Edgerton Reporter. "There is also a little picking away by other dealers at slightly improved prices, though there is no special activity anywhere along the line."

"The market for cured leaf has again fallen into quiet times. There is considerable trading in a small way which in the aggregate shows that business is moving in a fairly comfortable way, but no large transactions have come to notice. There is a strong demand for the cheaper grades which can scarcely be met because such stock is already pretty closely gathered in."

There are indications of another season of ending weather and if it should come at this time a considerable portion of the crop might be removed from the poles for stripping.
The late warm weather has helped the curing wonderfully.

"The shipments out of storage reach 805 cases from this market to all points for the week past."

"An unusually pleasant November with temperature ranging much higher than the normal has proven of great assistance in the curing of the tobacco crop. The sheds holding tobacco, which a month ago promised to yield a large percentage of fat stems, have, under the favorable influence of warm, mild weather, cured out beyond expectations, so that this imperfection is not as much feared as some weeks ago. The coloring of the cured leaf has also much improved by frequent ending and were it not for the percentage of unripe tobacco which would doubtless be but few chances to pick flaws with the crop at delivery time. At any rate buyers have less fears of the condition their purchases
will reach them than a few weeks ago
when they sent out so many letters of instruction regarding the preparing of the crop for delivery. It has been long years since any month so late in the year has furnished weather conditions so favorable to the tobacco growers of this state as November just closed. It has also been so suitable for outdoor work that the farmer has things so well in hand that he could devote his attention to stripping almost any time now following proper ending weather."

age. Children's six year molars should

it is wicked to extract children's

The Island of REGENERATION

By CYRUS TOWNSEND

Y. Y. BRADY

ILLUSTRATIONS BY RAY WATERS

COPYRIGHT, 1909, BY H. C. CHAMBERLAIN, CO. IN GREAT BRITAIN

They had progressed not more than half way when the storm burst upon them. Peals of thunder and flashes of lightning filled the air. It was such a display of the Titanic forces of nature as might have appalled the stoutest heart. It filled the woman with a vague terror. She noticed with satisfaction that the man was entirely unmoved by the terrific demonstrations of nature. By the flashes of lightning as they stumbled along in the otherwise total darkness she could see his face serene. In a moment of apprehension she caught his hand with her own and clung to it tightly. It was the unconscious appeal of the physical weaker to the physical stronger. Her hand had clapped the hands of her fellow creatures many times. Never before had his palm met the palm of human being, much less a woman's. She could feel that tremor run through him, but by instinct, as it were, he met her hand clasp with his own, and together they made their way to the cave.

They had scarcely reached it when the rain burst upon them. The heavens were opened, the floods descended, they bent upon the sands in fury. She could not drive him out there in that flood for the night. She motioned him to come within the entrance of the cave which was sheltered from the wind and which was dry and still. She made him lie down near the entrance and then, withdrawing herself into a recess at the side, she carried home on her shoulders, in front of her from wall to wall and hasting them with the popo to her person made another feeble barrier, but which would yet give the alarm to her and waken her if it were moved. And presently she went to sleep. She was too tired even to speculate on her discovery or to piece them together; that would be occupation for the morning.

CHAPTER V.

The Voice of the Past.

It rained hard during most of the night. The woman slept lightly and whenever she woke she could hear outside of her sanctuary the roar of the storm. The man, as usual, slept the long hours through as undisturbed by the commotion as a child. It was apparent to her that he had absolutely no fear. Whether this was due to ignorance or temperament she could not say. Was that, after all, under the conditions in which his life had been lived, a purely artificial quality, or was it natural and inherent? He had avoidances, abhorrences, antipathies, as the skeletons in the cupboard which she had buried. Was that avoidance of clothing which she had carefully piled upon the jutting shelf in the shadow of the cave for time of need. She ranged them on the sands before her. There was the Bible and the little silver box which she had found in the cave. She examined more critically its contents, wondering

the rest of the world.

Indeed, she thought bitterly, as she lay awake during the long watches of the night, that the rest of the world was nothing to her and that she hated it. She, therefore, not only was becoming resigned to her situation, but was rejoicing in it. She would teach this man all she knew. She would teach him to think, to reflect, to reason. She would teach him to talk. Since she had a book, albeit a sorry one, she would teach him to read.

The rain fell more softly now. Her eyes drooped.

She slept again only to wake and muse once more. She could have slept better had he been outside. How could he be there in the complete and steeping insensibility of slumber? Her hand fell against his breast. There was the treasure trove of her existence the day before. What would they tell her? She could scarcely wait until morning to look. He she woke and slept and woke and slept until the day broke.

It was bright and sunshiny out, although there were ominous clouds all about the western horizon. It was probable that the rainy season was at hand, if not upon them. She regretted that she had not given more time to the study of nature, to the fauna and flora of the South seas, to the conditions of wind and weather under which life was lived there. Much philosophy would she gladly have parted with for such practical information. She had to place her ideas of affairs out from scraps and tags of knowledge, unclassified, incoherent; from vague recollections of childhood stories and romances; from carelessly scanned collections of voyages, books of travel and adventure. The result was unsatisfactory. In some particulars the instinctive man before her was her master. At the things which went to make up physical comfort and well being in a state of absolute nature he certainly surpassed her.

She was thankful when she walked abroad that she had the shelter of the cave, for everything was drenched from the terrific downpour. If it was the beginning of the wet season she knew that the rains would soon come again. Still she luxuriated in what freedom she had. Without removing her single garment she plunged into the lagoon for a refreshing bath. The man followed her and swam about her moving slowly, with less skill than she, but as easily as a porpoise plunging about the bow of a progressive ship.

Refreshed, she came back to the mouth of the cave and brought thence for a careful inspection all her worldly possessions, save the little heap of clothing which she had carefully piled upon the jutting shelf in the shadow of the cave for time of need. She ranged them on the sands before her. There was the Bible and the little silver box which she had found in the cave. She examined more critically its contents, wondering

She regretted that she had not given more time to the study of nature, to the fauna and flora of the South seas, to the conditions of wind and weather under which life was lived there. Much philosophy would she gladly have parted with for such practical information. She had to place her ideas of affairs out from scraps and tags of knowledge, unclassified, incoherent; from vague recollections of childhood stories and romances; from carelessly scanned collections of voyages, books of travel and adventure. The result was unsatisfactory. In some particulars the instinctive man before her was her master. At the things which went to make up physical comfort and well being in a state of absolute nature he certainly surpassed her.

She was thankful when she walked abroad that she had the shelter of the cave, for everything was drenched from the terrific downpour. If it was the beginning of the wet season she knew that the rains would soon come again. Still she luxuriated in what freedom she had. Without removing her single garment she plunged into the lagoon for a refreshing bath. The man followed her and swam about her moving slowly, with less skill than she, but as easily as a porpoise plunging about the bow of a progressive ship.

Refreshed, she came back to the mouth of the cave and brought thence for a careful inspection all her worldly possessions, save the little heap of clothing which she had carefully piled upon the jutting shelf in the shadow of the cave for time of need. She ranged them on the sands before her. There was the Bible and the little silver box which she had found in the cave. She examined more critically its contents, wondering

the rest of the world.

Indeed, she thought bitterly, as she lay awake during the long watches of the night, that the rest of the world was nothing to her and that she hated it. She, therefore, not only was becoming resigned to her situation, but was rejoicing in it. She would teach this man all she knew. She would teach him to think, to reflect, to reason. She would teach him to talk. Since she had a book, albeit a sorry one, she would teach him to read.

She slept again only to wake and muse once more. She could have slept better had he been outside. How could he be there in the complete and steeping insensibility of slumber? Her hand fell against his breast. There was the treasure trove of her existence the day before. What would they tell her? She could scarcely wait until morning to look. He she woke and slept and woke and slept until the day broke.

It was bright and sunshiny out, although there were ominous clouds all about the western horizon. It was probable that the rainy season was at hand, if not upon them. She regretted that she had not given more time to the study of nature, to the fauna and flora of the South seas, to the conditions of wind and weather under which life was lived there. ## WILL ASK CONGRESS TO

Live Stock Breeders Want Appropriation to Exterminate Diseases.

Chicago, Dec. 3.—The National Association of Live Stock Breeders and Raisers, at its annual convention here last night, determined to ask congress for a liberal appropriation, to be placed at the disposal of the bureau of animal industry for the prevention and eradication of tuberculosis, hog cholera and plague, sheep scabies, anthrax and other highly contagious animal diseases. The association will also ask that congress provide for reasonable compensation to farmers for all animals or other property condemned by the government authorities in this work. This association, the largest of its kind in the world, has more than 100,000 members, and nearly 100 other live stock associations have joined it in the plan mentioned.

Last night's meeting was addressed by Dr. W. M. Ravenel of the University of Wisconsin, Dr. A. T. Peters of the University of Nebraska, Dr. M. H. Jeynolds of the University of Minnesota, Prof. E. S. Good of the Kentucky agricultural experiment station, Dr. David Roberts of Waukesha, Wis., F. C. Gilmer of Baltimore, Ky., and James Campbell of East St. Louis.

Suffered for 17 Years.

For 17 years I have suffered from Eczema, severely an hour of the day that I was not tormented by itching and itching, which made my life miserable. ## LAWYER PATRICK LOSES

NINTH FIGHT FOR LIBERTY

Holds that as His Sentence Was Never Executed He Should Be Released.

New York, Dec. 3.—The appellate division of the supreme court at Brooklyn dismissed the writ of habeas corpus obtained by Albert T. Patrick to determine whether he is being illegally held by the state and the law-enforcement lost his ninth battle for freedom.

Patrick holds that as his sentence to death for the slaying of William Marsh Rice was never executed, he should be released, as he is legally dead.

The order of the court means that Patrick will have to return at once to Sing Sing, where he has prepared the great legal battle before the state to put him to death or grant him freedom.

His fight, however, has not come to an end. The proceedings before the appellate division were merely a stop in the elaborate plans he is making to carry the question to the court of appeals, where his fate will be definitely decided.

The appellate division in its decision holds that the stay of execution in the death sentence issued by Judge O'Brien when Patrick's sentence was commuted to life imprisonment, is still in force.
